ARMY PATROLS CORK FOLLOWING BITTER TAX SALE RIOTING

One Man Killed and 100 Wounded When 5,000 Farmers Charge Police Cordon—Heroic Woman Risks Life to End Hostilities—Soldiers Reinforce Civil Authority

CORK, Aug. 13 (AP).—Soldiers, wearing helmets and armed with bayonets, patrolled the streets tonight, after gaining the upper hand in a stubborn fight with 5,000 farmers, in which one man was slain and upwards of 100 were injured. A farmer named Jeremiah Lynch died of wounds, as a large force of his determined companions battled to prevent a tax sale.

Police, later reinforced by soldiers, at first believed only a couple of dozen had been injured. But tonight it was learned eight doctors had set up a private dressing station near the farm where the fight occurred, and that many injured combatants were attended.

HEROIC WOMAN

The courage of a woman, Mrs. Eamon O'Neill, whose husband is one of the county council members of the Dail, was credited with saving many more from injury while bullets were flying she rushed between the battling farmers and officers and pleaded with them to cease. Fearing they would strike her, both sideskipped their fire.

Without regard to her own safety, Mrs. O'Neill gave assistance to the farmers, helping them to get out of the farmyard where the battle raged. The policemen were attacked as they guarded a yard where cattle, taken from two farmers for failure to pay land taxes, were being sold. Ultimately the defending force was augmented by a military detachment.

MAKE CHARGE

A feature of the battle was a spectacular charge of twelve men in a motor lorry, which plunged at top speed through a cordon of soldiers around the barricaded farmyard. One of the truck—was in a serious condition tonight with a bullet wound in the lung. Five others were shot and the rest were injured by police clubs.

When the 5,000 farmers came to town to protest the sales, they

BOARD NOT TO FILL VACANCY

Council Decides Not to Hold By-Election to Replace Alderman Williams

No by-election will be held in Victoria to fill the vacancy on the City Council caused by the death of Alderman R. T. Williams. That was decided last night by vote of the council.

The majority of the members of the aldermanic board considered the expense of an election to fill the term of four months was not warranted. In any case, the council would not sit for more than two months, allowing for delays in procedure and the fact that December is a dull month.

The Municipal Act, the city solicitor advised the council, states that the council shall hold a by-election to fill a vacancy, but there was a section making it more or less a matter for the council to determine. There are provisions for an appeal being made to the Lieutenant-Governor to over-ride the ruling of "no election" by a council.

Alderman Andrew McGavin was opposed to the whole procedure. He called attention to the draped desk of the late Alderman Williams, and was of the opinion, he said, that the council was acting with undue haste in filling the position so recently vacated by one of its members. However, the resolution to call an election was defeated.

MARTIAL LAW IN CUBAN PROVINCES

Strike in Postal and Telegraph Services Leads to Military Rule—Many Arrested

HAVANA, Aug. 13 (CP-Hava).—Martial law was declared today in the city of Havana and in the provinces of the Government issued an ultimatum to communications department strikers. The ultimatum expires Tuesday morning.

With postal and telegraph services at a standstill, communication with the interior was being maintained through army and navy wireless stations.

Besides fifty-two strikers arrested here and imprisoned, forty-nine were arrested in Camaguey as they prepared to hold a demonstration against the Government.

S.S. Islander Taken From Ocean Grave

Hitched between two salvage vessels is the skeleton of treasure ship, Ss. Islander, after she was lifted bodily from the ocean's floor in Stephens Passage, Alaska, where she has lain in 365 feet of water since 1901. The Islander sank after striking an iceberg, carrying seventy-two men to their deaths. Salvage workers have found a small amount of gold on the vessel, according to reports.

Young B.C. Golf Team Retains Willingdon Cup

Western Quartette Leads Ontario by Four Points to Win International Series by Record Score—Ken Black and Innes, of Montreal, Have Lowest Aggregates

LAVAL-SUR-LE-LAC GOLF CLUB, Quebec, Aug. 13 (CP).—A hard-hitting team of young golfers from British Columbia retained the Willingdon Cup today, defeating four other provinces in teams of four players, as a prologue to the Canadian Amateur championships.

Over the rolling, heavily-wooded Laval course, the team from the Pacific Coast rolled up an aggregate of 596 for 36 holes to pare one shot off the record for the competition, and hold the cup they won for the first time last year at Vancouver.

ONTARIO TEAM SECOND
Four points behind was the Ontario team, who led at the halfway mark. The Quebec team was third, with an aggregate of 609; Manitoba, fourth, with 623, and Alberta in last place with 644. Faced with a three-point deficit at the halfway mark, the British Columbia team got hot in the afternoon round, swept Ontario from the leadership and coasted to an easy victory.

DEATH HALTED KIDNAP PLANS
Toronto, Aug. 13 (CP).—Deeds of a fantastic plot, frustrated by death, to kidnap the late Lady Flavelle, were revealed in a special session of police court here today at the hearing of three men charged with conspiring to kidnap and hold for ransom James S. McLean, a relative of the Flavells.

The revelation was made by Fred Hastings, held as a material witness, who said Frank Wood, held with Harry and James Leslie on the conspiracy charge, had come to him with an offer to make $10,000.

POLICE FIND TUNNEL
Witness said plans for the kidnapping of Lady Flavelle were laid before him at a rendezvous at New Toronto, the municipality where police discovered a tunnel and cave in which it is alleged McLean was to have been held captive until payment of $75,000 ransom was made.

Death, however, claimed the wife of Sir Joseph Flavelle, and plans were directed against McLean, president of Canada Packers, Limited, of which Wood was a former employee.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL
Wood and the two Leslies were committed for trial and were granted bail of $3,000 for the former and $1,300 each for the latter.

Mounted Police Head Condemns Payment Of Moiety to Officers

General Macbrien Declares Participation of Arresting Officials in Fines Does Not Tend to General Advantages of Force

VANCOUVER, Aug. 13 (CP).—Moiety cases—prosecutions from which prosecuting officers are entitled to a part of the fine—are wrong, and are injurious to police should be eliminated.

These opinions were voiced today by Major-General J. H. Macbrien, commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, here to carry out his annual inspection of "E" Division.

GOES TO FUND
General Macbrien condemned the moiety system. He explained, however, the individual R.C.M.P. officer did not share in proceeds from such cases, but that any share claimable was put in a general fund for the organization.

Officers might act with meticulous fairness and in the best interests of the law, but when a moiety was granted there was always the suggestion of persecution, said General Macbrien.

The Mounties are still popular with the youth of the Dominion and the force is deluged with applications to the ranks. General Macbrien explained recruits from different provinces were taken in relation to the number of officers stationed in the province, and for that reason the Prairie Provinces

TO INCREASE AIR DEFENCE

United States Drafting Big Five-Year Programme for Congress

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP).—A new five-year naval air expansion programme, calling for a big increase in fighting aircraft and pilots, is being drafted by Chairman Carl Vinson, of the United States House of Representatives' naval committee, in co-operation with the Navy Department, for presentation to the next Congress.

The author of the Vinson "Treaty Navy" Shipbuilding Act today told reporters the projected programme would call for construction up to the 2,100 naval planes already authorized by Congress but not appropriated for; development of the Philadelphia naval aircraft factory, and an increase in the facilities of the Pensacola, Fla., naval aviation training school.

"For national defence and reasons of economy we need a definite programme for the increase of our naval air force," Vinson said. "We also need a large number of reserve planes for the aircraft carriers built and building."

SEVEN PLANES LOST IN FIRE AT DETROIT

DETROIT, Aug. 13 (AP).—Six United States Navy planes and one private plane were destroyed by fire this afternoon, in the main hangar at the Grosbeak lake navy station. Five of the navy planes were training ships, according to seamen stationed at the field, and the sixth was used for towing machine-gun targets. The fire is believed to have originated in the motor of the latter ship. The value of the lost ships could not be immediately ascertained.

EIGHT KILLED IN MINE EXPLOSIONS

Three Others Seriously Hurt in French Potash Shaft—Many Off Duty at Time

COLMAR, France, Aug. 13 (CP-Hava).—Eight miners were dead tonight, and three were in serious condition following an explosion in a potash mine at Ensisheim this afternoon.

The proposed auditorium would house public halls, ice arena, bicycle track and places for indoor sports when weather conditions prevented them being held outside. The scheme is an ambitious one and was given the fullest support by Alderman John A. Worthington, who moved for the adoption of the committee's report. The council voiced its unanimous approval of the project and the wishes of the council will be immediately transmitted to the authorities.

Sound of Exploding Meteor Heard by Residents of Oregon City

Bend, Ore., Aug. 13 (AP).—Forest service lookouts near Bend, today, were charting the path of a huge meteor which flashed across the southern skies here, last night, and exploded so close to this city that the sound was heard distinctly by a number of Bend residents.

If accurate triangulation readings can be made, a search for the fragments will be made, according to J. Hugh Pruett, Northwest director of the American Meteor Society, to whom the forest service reports will be sent.

Ray Cook, of near Bend, who obtained a good view of the meteor, said it appeared "nearly as large as a full moon." The explosion, he added, occurred just before the meteor disappeared in the southeast.

CITY COUNCIL TAKES ACTION TO INVESTIGATE FREE PORT

Hon. H. H. Stevens To Speak Here at Luncheon, Friday

HON. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce in the Federal Cabinet, yesterday accepted an invitation to speak here, Friday, at a joint luncheon of the Men's Canadian Club and the Chamber of Commerce, in the Empress Hotel. The luncheon will start at 12 o'clock noon, and will be open to all service club members and business men generally. The Minister's subject was not announced.

Advantages to Victoria of Colonial Position Stressed

CONSIDERING the matter: one of the greatest importance to the citizens of Victoria, the Province, and the people of Canada as a whole to have Victoria reaffirmed as a free port, the Victoria City Council, at its regular meeting last night, fully supported a resolution proposed by Alderman John A. Worthington, asking for a full inquiry into all aspects of the case.

INTERPRETER IS MURDERED

Montreal Police Court Official Is Shot Down on Street

MONTREAL, Aug. 14 (CP).—Three unidentified men, who apparently lured Alexander W. Soulikoff, police court interpreter, to a false street address, surrounded his automobile, early this morning, and shot him twice. He staggered from the car and fell dead in the street. The three escaped.

Police concluded that the court interpreter had been killed in a crime of vengeance.

RACED MOTOR

One of the gunmen coolly reached into the car, while the others covered Soulikoff, and raced the motor to disguise the sound of the two shots.

With an agonized cry, Soulikoff stumbled out of the car and sagged to the street. Blood smeared the pavement, as occupants of nearby houses ran to his aid.

The gunman fled down De launaudiere Street, turned into a vacant lot and disappeared.

WITNESSED KILLING

The killing occurred almost within sight of Raoul Caya and his son, Lucien Caya.

As they were coming home from visiting friends, they told police, they saw the three men lurking in the shadows. The Cayas found something in the attitude of the three that disturbed them and they hurried into their home.

The young Caya looked out of the window into the dimly-lit street and saw part of the gunman's action.

At the sound of the shots, Raoul Caya came running from the rear of the house and arrived in time to see the killers escape.

Great Pile of Rock Drops Away From Brink of Niagara

Second Major Slide From Falls in Last Three Years Accompanied by Deafening Roar—Sightseers Throng to Goat Island

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 13 (CP).—A gigantic pile of rock, estimated to weigh 30,000,000 pounds, rose above the water in Niagara Gorge tonight, visible evidence of the second major rock slide from the Horseshoe Falls since 1931.

Water was flowing over what yesterday was dry rock, as sightseers thronged to the shore of Goat Island in an effort to obtain a view of the jagged, saw-like rim of the falls and the huge pile beneath it. But mist obscured the view, shrouding the secret of Nature's wonder.

The huge chunk fell from the cataract at 8:20 a.m. E.S.T., today, with a deafening roar that seemed to still the sound of water pouring over the precipice. The rock landed in the gorge, sending a spout of water more than 200 feet into the air.

The lip of one of Canada's great wonders lifted as if from a charge of dynamite, heaved, groaned and slid away with a roar. Where there was only a dribble of water yesterday, a huge stream began to pour

It is presumed that the committee on legislation will have charge of the inquiry, which will be unrestricted and every avenue will be explored in an endeavor to vindicate the contention of private and public citizens that the proclamation made by Governor James Douglas, declaring Victoria and Esquimalt a free port of entry for vessels, had never been revoked.

ENTHUSIASTIC APPROVAL

Commenting on his resolution, which was given enthusiastic approval by the members of the council, Alderman Worthington pointed out the great progress that had accrued to the City of Hamilton through its becoming a free port. He also referred to the proposals of the President of the United States to set up a system of free ports on the Pacific and Atlantic seaboard, as well as a free port zone on the Great Lakes. Alderman Worthington contended Canada should take cognizance of these facts and set up a free port area for the Dominion, and he further contended Victoria was the logical place for such a port.

It was not the intention of Alderman Worthington's resolution that the issue be debated at the meeting last night. All he asked for was the official endorsement of the move and to place an authoritative body in charge of the investigations which would have to be made and which would entail communications

LAST ROUND-UP ON MISSOURI

Drought Forces Most Spectacular Shipment of Cattle in History

WILLISTON, N.D., Aug. 13 (AP). After the last great round-up, Upper Missouri River ranchmen stood silently by today while 10,000 head of drought-stricken cattle, purchased by the Government, were loaded on cars.

Three solid trainloads were bound for Eastern slaughter pens, and fresh pastures in Georgia. The last round-up started in Williams County, at sun-up, Saturday, with 670 cattlemen participating.

For two days the exhausted herds trickled into the Williston concentration yards.

PENS JAMMED
By nightfall, Sunday, the stock pens were jammed. Veterinarians, laboring in dust clouds under electric lights, cull the herds. Stock that was too weak to stand shipped was killed.

Members of the State Livestock Committee, in charge of the shipment, said the Williston shipment was the most spectacular stock movement in history. It was absolutely necessary, they said, that the stock move at once. Animals appraised by the Government in July would not have been moved until mid-December if an emergency order had not been given.

PRINCE REFUSES TO ACCEPT MEDAL

Heir to British Throne Declines Offer for Aiding in Saving Boy From Drowning

BIARRITZ, France, Aug. 13 (AP).—The Prince of Wales has refused a life-saving medal offered him by the French Government in recognition of heroism, it was learned today.

The Prince aided in saving a boy from drowning in a swimming pool here, a week ago.

Although he has received hundreds of laudatory letters and telegrams of congratulation, the heir to the British throne modestly declined to accept France's offer of a gold medal.

A long document in parchment, from Paris, asked him to accept the decoration, and praised him for his heroism in rescuing the youth, who was caught by a huge wave and lifted from a bench into the pool.

EMPRESS ZITA IS VERY BUSY

Mother of Austrian Pretender Waging Intensive Campaign for Her Son

LONDON, Aug. 13 (AP).—The former Empress Zita, described by diplomats as a "fast worker," was said today by an authoritative source to be going ahead with her efforts to bring about restoration of the Hapsburg throne in Austria, despite objections from the Little Entente nations.

Italian officials were said by the same source to have suggested that Zita go slowly in her continental negotiations to make her son, the Archduke Otto, a king.

Historic Fort Niagara Is Rebuilt

An aerial view of the reconstructed and historic Fort Niagara, which has been brought back to a semblance of its former glory after seven years' work and an expenditure of over half a million dollars. The fort was first founded in 1618 and was the scene of two centuries of conflict involving France, Great Britain and the United States, which countries successively held it. The fort will be opened officially during a three-nation celebration, September 3 to 6. The skeletons of unknown colonial soldiers were moved in an impressive ceremony to the crypt of a monument being erected in honor of the Rush-Bagot treaty between the United States and Canada.

perial Order-in-Council given under the sign manual of Her Majesty. It is doubtful, indeed, if it can be done today.

In all events, Mr. Mayor and gentlemen, there is every right to believe that the contention is well founded, and that only owing to the action of Governor Seymour, who was bitterly prejudiced in favor of the port of New Westminster, and who had authority for his action in the matter, the free port of Victoria was wrongfully deprived of its lawful rights. Those rights still continue, in law, and should be revived in fact.

I trust that your worshipful body may be able to take such steps as will do away with the disadvantages under which this port labors.

Yours truly, T. B. MONK.

TAKES ACTION TO PROBE FREE PORT

with high officials of Government and legal authorities at Ottawa.

SUPPORTS MOVEMENT

Mayor Leeming was heartily in accord with the movement and so expressed himself. He was not prepared to debate the question concerning the legal status of the city at the present time, but, he said, he believed the matter to be of sufficient importance to warrant the fullest inquiry.

Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter, while not opposing the move for an inquiry, argued that the proclamation of Governor James Douglas had been revoked by orders-in-council and ordinances passed subsequent to the declaration. Some of these he quoted as coming from documents in the Provincial Archives. The council, however, was not in the mood for debate and the issue was closed for the time being with the passage of the resolution.

The first document to come before the committee of inquiry will be that of Col. T. B. Monk, who presented a brief to the council last night dealing with the free port. This brief will be the subject of the official resolution and will form the basis of the inquiry.

TEXT OF DOCUMENT

Col. Monk's brief follows: August 13, 1934.

His Worship the Mayor and Board of Aldermen, Victoria, B.C. Gentlemen:

May I call your attention to the contention contained in the memorandum of the late Gilbert Malcolm Sproul, first agent-general of British Columbia, contending that the proclamation of Governor Douglas, January 18, 1860, declaring Victoria and Esquimalt to constitute a free port area, had not been revoked, and therefore the said area still constitutes a free port area in law.

After studying the situation carefully, with a desire of bringing the matter to public attention, I have formally protested collection of Canadian custom tariffs at this port.

The advantages that would accrue to Victoria by a revival of the free port, are, I believe, many and obvious to require elucidation. I ask that your worshipful body take some action to determine whether or not Victoria may enjoy such advantages in the future.

FREE PORT AREA

The situation, in brief, is that on January 18, 1860, His Excellency Governor Douglas made proclamation of an Imperial Order-in-Council which Her Majesty Queen Victoria had approved. This order-in-council established a free port area on Vancouver Island.

November 19, 1866, the two Crown Colonies of Vancouver Island and British Columbia were merged. Under the Act of Union proclaimed that date, His Excellency Governor Seymour was authorized to extend the tariffs of British Columbia to Vancouver Island. The contention is that neither in the act itself or the implied authority, was the general extension of British Columbia tariffs to Vancouver Island to include the free port area. The authority of her Majesty's Order-in-Council constituting the free port area could only be abrogated by a similar order-in-council, similarly proclaimed, or by Act of Imperial Parliament. No such action was taken. The free port area constituted but a very small area on Vancouver Island, and the general extension of the tariffs of British Columbia, intended in the act, should not have been applied to the free port area.

Over the hill on Grouseman Creek the situation is not as promising, and the fire continued to spread over the westerly brow.

SHIP SINKS AFTER HARBOR COLLISION

MONTREAL, Aug. 13 (CP).—Settled on the bottom of Victoria Basin here, tonight, was the small refueling vessel Maple Branch. She was struck by the stern of H.M.S. Dragon as the latter was entering to berth after a trip from New Westminster, where she had taken Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain from Nova Scotia.

The crew of the small vessel was all taken off safely, and the only damage to the British ship was a chipped propeller blade.

TWO SHIPS ARRIVE AT NORTHERN PORT AFTER CLOSE RACE

CHURCHILL, Man., Aug. 13 (CP).—Dashed out in flags from stern to stern, the steamship Dalworth docked here tonight from Liverpool, first vessel to reach port in the race to open the 1934 navigation season.

Following the Dalworth, and so close behind she wallowed in the wash thrown up by the big freighter, came the Rio Clara, nosed out of first place honors by a scant 300 yards. The arrival climaxed one of the most thrilling races in the three-year history of the port.

NIAGARA FALLS MAY DISAPPEAR

But Not for 20,000 Years, Say Scientists—Others Existed in Past

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Editor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP).—Niagara Falls, in its break today demonstrated a geological belief that this scenic wonder is only the last of the American Niagaras and, like the others, is headed towards extinction within perhaps 20,000 years.

The others were in central New York State, with no connection with the present Niagara. Today they are only deep, dry valleys, their use prosaic. They are the natural cuts used by great railroads in crossing the high ridges in the region about Binghamton.

MADE BY WATERFALLS

Geological studies at Cornell University show how grand scale waterfalls made these cross-cut valleys many thousands years ago, and foreshadow the fate of today's Niagara.

They go back to the time, roughly estimated as 30,000 years or more ago, when the last glaciers were melting off Northern New York. The present Niagara was presumably at that time still buried under ice.

FORMED HUGE LAKES

The melting glaciers are believed to have formed huge lakes, paralleling but south of the present Lakes Erie and Ontario. The water draining from these lakes spilled through streams on top of the high ridges here and there. At the far edge of a ridge, the stream formed a falls. This plunging water in turn cut back upriver toward the lake, just as Niagara Falls is doing.

Niagara came into existence possibly later than the now dry railroad valleys.

DOCTOR SEWS HEART WOUND

Delicate Operation With Local Anesthetic Performed at Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP).—Three stitches, taken directly in the heart muscle in a twenty-minute operation under local anesthetic, by Dr. George Luther Davenport, today saved the life of Ellice Wright, twenty-eight.

Wright, stricken in the heart with an ice pick in a quarrel with a woman, was taken to Michael Reese Hospital in a dying condition, Dr. Davenport said.

Wright was given a local anesthetic, his chest was opened and the pericardium, or sac surrounding the heart, was found full of blood, of which 300 cubic centimeters were removed with a pump. The wound in the pericardium and that in the heart itself, which was near the apex of the left side, Dr. Davenport said, were sewed up and the patient put to bed. Wright, entirely conscious, watched the operation and talked during it to the doctor.

The doctor quoted Wright as saying he "felt fine." Barring complications, Wright is expected to recover.

TRIBUTES PAID LATE ALDERMAN

Mayor Leeming and Council Voice Loss in Passing of R. T. Williams

Tributes to the memory of the late Alderman R. T. Williams were paid by members of the City Council at the regular meeting of the aldermanic board last night. A resolution regretting the passing of the late alderman was carried with a standing vote.

The desk occupied by Mr. Williams while a member of the council was draped in black and a vase of flowers had been placed on it. Those who gave tribute on behalf of the council were: Mayor Leeming, Aldermen John Worthington, who moved the resolution; Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter, Alderman Walter Luney, Alderman James Adam, and Alderman Andrew McGavin.

Mayor Leeming appointed the following as active pallbearers: Aldermen Worthington, Brown, Pedon, Dewar, Hawkins, and Adam, and the following as honorary pallbearers: Aldermen Andrew McGavin, Hunter, Luney, and Mayor.

DIES VICTIM OF ROYAL SCOURGE

Minor Motor Mishap Proves Fatal to Spanish Prince in Austria

KLAGENFURT, Austria, Aug. 13 (AP).—The Spanish Royal Family grieved tonight over the death of its nineteen-year-old scion, Don Gonzalo Maria Bernardo Narciso Alfonso Mauricio.

He died last night of the scourge of the royal family, haemophilia, that malady which is transmitted from female to male and by which the afflicted person bleeds copiously following the slightest contusion.

AVOIDING CYCLIST

Death followed what to other persons would have been a minor mishap, an automobile crash in which Don Gonzalo and his sister, the Infanta Beatrice, rammed their car against a wall in avoiding a bicyclist. Beatrice was only slightly hurt.

The prince was hurried to the villa at Portschoch on Woerther Sea, where the royal family has been in exile for some time past. He died a short time later, while his father, Alfonso, the former King of Spain, held his hand, and his brother and sisters knelt in prayer beside the bed.

Royal Commission Reviews Economic Story of Past in Atlantic Province

HALIFAX, Aug. 13 (CP).—Nova Scotia's economic history for the last seventy-five years was reviewed exhaustively today before the Royal Commission investigating the status of the Province under Confederation.

In his lengthy submission to the commissioners, Professor Norman Rogers, of Queens University, outlined steps leading to the union of the provinces, dealing particularly with Nova Scotia's part in the federation, and touched also upon the trade of the Dominion following Confederation.

The presentation was chiefly of a historical character. Not until later in the commission's investigation will the economic expert deal with present-day conditions in Nova Scotia and present his conclusions on behalf of the Province.

NORTHERN ONTARIO HAS SNOW FLURRIES

HORNEPAYNE, Ont., Aug. 13 (CP).—Old King Winter opened his 1934 assault here, when a high North wind brought with it intermittent snow flurries at a temperature of 40 degrees above zero.

MAN BEST BOSS EXPERT CLAIMS

Quarrels Over Financing Homes Found to Have Been Cause of Many Troubles

NEW YORK—Marriages in which the wife is boss go on the rocks more often than those in which the male dominates. Dr. Paul Popenoe, director of the Institute of Family Relations, reported recently after a survey of 3,000 married couples.

"Partnerships in which the husband and wife are on a 50-50 basis have the best chance," Dr. Popenoe said. "They turn out well 87 per cent of the time—but they are an almost hopelessly unrealistic ideal, even for college people."

BORNEO MARRIAGES

Of the man-based marriages studied, 61 per cent were reported successful. The felicity score fell to 47 per cent in cases where madame was the head of the house.

An interesting sidelight on the research conducted under the professor's direction was that quarrels over family finances was a universal complaint in homes from which happiness was found to have fled.

"Johnnie," said the teacher reprovingly, "you misquoted most of the words in your composition."

"Yes'm," explained Johnnie; "I'm going to be a dialect writer."

Ca-Choo Club to Meet in Ontario

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 13 (CP).—More than 200 hay fever sufferers from forty-one states and Southern Ontario were preparing today to come to Sault Ste. Marie, August 24, for celebration of the sixth anniversary of the organization of the Ca-Choo Club.

Sault Ste. Marie was selected as permanent headquarters of the club because sufferers can obtain relief from their affliction here.

SAFETY FOR DEPOSITORS

It may be useful, in considering the demand or suggestion which has been made in some quarters that our banks should be "nationalized," to ask what would be the probable fate of a parliamentary bill, sponsored and supported by O. B. U. lobbyists, to permit the officials of the One Big Union to absorb into that organization all the labor unions in Canada. Naturally the first question to be asked would be whether the proposal did or did not come from the labor unions themselves. If it could be shown that the agitation for the proposed absorption had been stage-managed and exploited in the interest of the O. B. U. officials and in opposition to the desires of the labor unions the bill would have no chance of becoming law.

These considerations lead to a similar question as to the source of the demand for the nationalization of the banks. The bank depositors are the legal and rightful owners of more than nine-tenths of the resources of the banks. Does the demand for nationalization come from the mass of banking depositors themselves? They are the persons most deeply, immediately, and vitally concerned. This demand certainly does not come from the depositors. In point of fact they are strongly opposed to nationalization and view the proposal with unceasing anxiety and fear. If the depositor is to be allowed to choose between a banking system controlled and managed by a political party pledged to vast public expenditures and a banker whose interest it is to invest the depositor's money in safe securities, his choice will be for safety and security.

He will make this choice because he knows that bankers have before their minds a whole series of fear of the consequences of unsound banking practices. The Government of the day, on the other hand, may be led by political considerations into extravagant public enterprises. It would of course be the duty of the Government to meet the depositor's demand for currency, but in the meantime owing to the spendthrift zeal of the Government the purchasing power of the depositor's dollar might be seriously affected.

Recent history has furnished us with examples of bankrupt states as well as of bank failures, states whose promises to pay were issued in such quantities that in time their purchasing power fell almost to zero. With these considerations facing him the average banking depositor will refuse to countenance any proposal for the "nationalization" of our banking system.

THE CHALLENGER

There is a feeling in Britain that the yacht Endeavour stands a rare chance of lifting the America's Cup which has been in possession of the United States since 1851. That feeling was in no wise lessened when the professional seamen who contracted to sail the Endeavour withdrew their services because of a grievance over wages. There was time available before the Endeavour sailed from England to recruit some of Britain's best amateur sailors who in all respects are equal to those who follow sailing as a gainful pursuit. The challenger thus suffers in no way because of having an amateur crew for she has those aboard who are the equal of any seamen in the world.

The challenger has made a good crossing. The probability is that the handicap imposed on a vessel of her size having to make the trip across the Atlantic has done her no harm, and it has been in the nature of a training for her amateur crew. For the ocean voyage she had to unship her mast. Since her arrival on the American side the re-rigging has been undertaken and her crew is being drilled. She has some time left to become accustomed to the waters in which the races will be sailed.

There is no other sporting event about which there is such an aura of romance as the contest for the America's Cup. Britain this year is dominating so many fields of sport that it may be the most highly prized trophy of all will be won by the prowess of her seamen and because of the sailing qualities of the Endeavour which engaged in her tests in English waters with satisfaction to her builders, her owner and the British public.

FUTURE OF MEDICINE

In commenting on the latest discussions affecting the science of medicine at the annual meeting of the British Medical Association, The London Times sees the doctor of the future looking upon himself more as the guardian of health than the exorciser of disease. That is the trend in medicine, a rebound from a newer to an older point of view. It is believed that the mass of new material affecting medicine accumulated during and since the Great War is slowly being assimilated and, as The Times says, "is exerting great and unexpected influence on the whole body of opinion." There is no longer "a purely bacteriological or physical or chemical theory of disease." There is a reversion in thought as regards health to the knowledge that was the stock in trade of earlier generations, and in explanation of this The Times says:

"The study is life in its protean reactions to its surroundings and in its splendid resourcefulness when faced with adversity. Bicyclic indeed is less concerned today with the mutation or evolution of form than with its inherent stability among forces tending to effect its disintegration. It is not form so much as function which changes, and the idea seems to have taken possession of many minds that in the study of changes of function lie important secrets of aetiology and therapeutics. There is evidence in the syllabus of the one hundred and second annual meeting of the British Medical Association that workers in many different fields are discovering in this study of function a common ground which to some extent at any rate, has been lacking during a long period of time. Thus the bacteriologist is finding that great differences in virulence may characterize the same type of organism in different circumstances, while the chemist has come to recognize that the efficacy of his products depends in large measure upon the way in which the body reacts towards them. Bodily reactions again are determined by conditions of health, of atmosphere, of nourishment, and of emotional and intellectual stress, the elucidation of which is the main everyday work of physicians, surgeons, and psychiatrists, and all those who are associated with them."

HOPE OF WORLD PEACE

The Bishop of Durham, Dr. Hensley Henson, has been speaking on the subject of disarmament at the Church Assembly at Westminster. He admits fully the desire of the Church of England for peace and the duty that rests upon all Christian citizens by every means in their power to pursue peaceful counsels and support peaceful policies. There is a difficulty involved, however, and Dr. Henson sees it in the fact that the nations of the world are not on the same moral level, and until they are, considerations which may seem overwhelming to some people may seem comparatively worthless or unworthy to others. Then he says:

"At this moment the one hope of the world's peace is that Great Britain should be able to speak effectively in the councils of the nations, and if, following the mirage of pacifism, she disarms herself in the face of an armed world, she will neither speak self-respectingly nor effectively."

Those who study the history of dress reform give credit to the British soldier for some innovations. It was the soldier who evolved the puttee, its original form being strips torn from blankets. Moreover, soldiers, too, have been responsible for killing objectionable fashions in dress. An English battalion threw away its stocks before assaulting Badajoz, and a Life Guards Colonel had to pay for a complete new issue of these throttling articles of uniform which his men had cast away before engaging Napoleon's Cuirassiers at Waterloo. Even the Great War forced a change in the great coats worn by the troops, for infantrymen hacked off the skirts so as to prevent mud-clogging in the trenches.

In commenting on the killing of John Dillinger, the outlaw, by agents of the Chicago Department of Justice, The London Times says: "They (American statesmen) have to deal with the social soil in which the gangster thrives. Some reports of Dillinger's death say that souvenir hunters soaked their handkerchiefs in his blood upon the pavement. This is the reverence that has been done in the past to the bodies of kings and martyrs. The popular delusion that has surrounded the obscure Dillinger with a like romanticism is the supreme evil that the United States has to overcome."

There are sixty-four entries for the London-to-Melbourne air race. Twenty-seven of these have entered for the handicap race only, and of the remaining thirty-seven, only nine have entered for the speed race exclusively. The start of the race will be made from one aerodrome. The competitors will be started in batches, the time allowances being made up at control points on the route. Practically every country of importance is represented. Britain has sixteen entries and the United States eighteen.

LUDE HUMANOIRES

A foreign humorist once observed that in the far future (A.D. 4000, say), England would be merely remembered to as the inventor of a hundred pleasant ways of wasting time. He was referring, of course, to the many games of English origin, which have caught on all the world over. One result of the world-wide popularity is that our technical terms of sport have become part and parcel of nearly all foreign languages, even penetrating into Oriental vocabularies. Every foreign nation, it would seem, has made a special study of our games, and we, who play them all—having for a final end the creation of the all-round athlete—could never hope to be always victorious. A nation of generalists is bound to lose contests to a world of specialists. Sometimes we have lost so many in a single year, losing without rancor or repining, as to excuse Mr. Dooley's satirical comment: "The English are good losers—they always lose." We can smile at such wisecracks, and we can also laugh aloud at the suggestion that such defeats are a proof of national degeneracy. Last week, however, we proved unhappily that England can sometimes meet her own match in the countries that produce super-specialists—London Morning Post.

SUGGESTS PLAN FOR TAX BILLS

Hon. A. W. Gray States Cities Can Adopt Principle of Statute Labor

While Provincial assistance with municipal tax affairs problems is out of the question, the province has no objection to municipalities employing men to work out a portion of their taxes, Hon. A. W. Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs, declared yesterday.

New Westminster, said Mr. Gray, is already doing this, and where possible, allows taxpayers to work out a portion of their taxes, so that their properties will not go under the hammer at municipal tax sales.

In connection with Burnaby, which is under provincial commission control, the Province has already stated, it has no objection to this plan, where civic corporations wish to apply it.

STATUTE LABOR
Some months ago, the Government announced a return to statute labor policy in respect to Provincial roads, whereby farmers can work out the equivalent of a year's tax bills in Provincial employment. This, however, does not extend to municipalities, which must make their arrangements in any similar scheme.

Tax arrears in municipal areas of the Province last year were $11,015,406, while tax sale lands held by these corporations had an aggregate of $9,913,000, according to the annual report of the inspector of municipalities, recently published.

THE LATE MR. R. T. WILLIAMS
Sir,—I learn with deep sorrow of the death of our esteemed friend, Alderman R. T. Williams. We shall all miss him, for he gave to every body a warm and loving hand, and a life devoted to the public and private duties of his office.

In close touch with him and always found him most conscientious in all his service for his fellow man. It was my privilege to accede to his request to take the chair at his recent public meetings as a candidate again for the City Council, and his talks on bridging the Seymour Narrows with some beautiful lantern slides. May his efforts in this latter regard may be lost sight of.

He was an earnest worker on the executive of the Victoria Labor Council, and his Association from its commencement. Was a regular attendee and his counsel much valued. Our Association joins with others to extend our deepest sympathy to the widow and relatives.

RELIEF PROBLEM
Sir,—May I, through your letter column, submit to your reading public a serious problem that has arisen in my case owing to the re-arranging of relief benefits.

The new ruling is that all men who have not been resident in the area since before May, 1931, are classed as transients; these, if physically fit, are eligible for camp.

I have been in Victoria since December, 1931, and for some time have been receiving relief allowance. During that period I have not been medically fit for camp, and the doctors still are unable to pass me for work. There is no consideration in the new system for sick men who have been in the area since before May, 1931, are classed as transients; these, if physically fit, are eligible for camp.

I have interviewed all the officials and they suggest I should give up my home and live in a rooming house. FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of August 14, 1884)
Enlarge Firm The T. W. H. H. & Co., which has been in business here since 1858, has been enlarged by the addition to the firm of C. W. Hammer and W. H. Bone. Mr. Hammer has been chief book-keeper of the establishment since its inception, and Mr. Bone has been chief salesman for many years. Both are widely and favorably known in business circles, and their addition to T. W. H. H. & Co. will constitute a strong organization.

Lot 36—Town lot No. 16, at the southeast corner of Station and Langley Streets, 36 x 65 feet, was yesterday sold for $7,000 to a party who proposes to erect thereon a two-story brick building.

Continues to Port—The steamer Elias Anderson, shipped by Captain Wain, will continue on the Victoria route, the captain stating "Travel has fallen off and his revenue lessened. It is going to investigate the beach Bay route with the object of putting his boat on that run."

Lean By-Law—The voting on the $100,000 by-law yesterday resulted in a majority of 107 against it. The votes stood 231 "no" and 134 "yes."

Peter Rabbit Makes a Discovery

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Hardly had jolly round red Mr. Sun thrown off his nightcap and come out from his home behind the Purple Hills for his daily climb up in the blue, blue sky, when Farmer Brown's Boy started down the Lone Little Path through the Green Forest.

Peter Rabbit Rubbed His Eyes Once More and Winked Up His Eyebrows

Peter Rabbit, who had been out all night and was just then on his way home, saw him. Peter stopped and sat up to rub his eyes and look again. He wasn't quite sure that he had seen aright the first time. But he had. There was Farmer Brown's Boy, sure enough, and at his heels trotted Bower the Hound. Peter Rabbit rubbed his eyes once more and winked up his eyebrows. Farmer Brown's Boy certainly had a gun over one shoulder and a spade over the other. Where could he be going down the Lone Little Path with a spade? Farmer Brown's garden certainly was not in that direction. Peter watched him out of sight, and then he hurried down to the Green Meadows to tell Johnny Chuck what he had seen. My, how Peter's long legs did fly! He was so excited that he had forgotten how sleepy he had felt a few moments before.

Half way down to Johnny Chuck's house Peter Rabbit almost ran plump into Bobby Coon and Jimmy Skunk, who had been quarrelling and were calling each other names. They stopped when they saw Peter Rabbit.

"Peter Rabbit runs away from his shadow, so they say," Peter said. "Tell us why this sudden fright!"

abashed Bobby Coon. Peter Rabbit stopped short. Indeed, he stopped so short that he almost turned a somersault. "Say," he panted, "I've just seen Farmer Brown's Boy."

"You don't say so!" said Jimmy Skunk, pretending to be very much surprised. "You don't say so! Why now I think of it, I believe I've seen Farmer Brown's Boy a few times myself."

THAT "LIKE THE DICKENS" FEELING IS LIVER

Wake Up Your Liver Bill! Feel Fit. You Needn't use Calomel To Do It.

It's your liver, failing to pour out the vital two pounds of bile, daily, into your bowels, that makes you feel so off-color. Lack of bile means poor digestion. Food stays too long in your bowels and decays. Your system is poisoned. You go through the misery of gas, bloating, pain, heartburn. You have a dark brown, slimy, taste in your mouth and bad breath. Your skin is unattractive and you feel tired and listless. Your whole system seems out of order.

How can you reasonably expect to clear up a condition like this by merely taking salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or other gum or roughage? These only move the bowels, and that's not enough. You must wake up your liver bile. Avoid calomel (mercury). Take Carter's Little Liver Bile. They're purely vegetable, gentle, sure and safe. They'll make you feel a hundred per cent better in a very short time. Don't waste your money on substitutes. Be definite. Ask for Carter's by name—read the label. Look for the name, Carter's, on the label. See, at all drug stores.

EASTERN NEWSPAPER CARRIES FEATURE ON LOCAL FISHING

Under the title, "How About Cut-throat?" and accompanied by three large pictures, a full-page article telling of the fishing sport on Vancouver Island appeared in the recent issue of Saturday Night, weekly Eastern newspaper. The article was written by Frank Glolma, and was furnished with the pictures by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. Attractively written, the article is well set off by the pictures, showing a catch of cutthroat trout, a typical island stream, and a portion of the beautiful rock garden of A. E. Ripplingale, 947 Poul Bay Road.

Taseko and Kismet Trophy Winners in Yacht Club Events

Amateur Skippers Divided in Opinion and Sailed Around Discovery Island in Different Directions—Wind Light During Race

By J. B. ACLAND
Taseko, sailed by Cliff Adams and H. A. Tomalin, duplicated its win of Saturday afternoon, when it went out Sunday and annexed the Discovery Island Cup for star boats, while Kismet, skippered by H. Gann, took unto himself the Chatham Island Cup for the dinghy class.

The win was east and light, with calm streaks, and the tide ebbing when the small craft started from Cadboro Bay, Sunday morning. Both star and dinghy classes were to start together at 10 o'clock, but owing to the star boat Genii having trouble with her gear, the start of the stars was held up until 10:30, the dinghies getting away at 10:15 o'clock. They went across the line in the following order: Tern, H. Goby; Margaret, Miss M. Lindsay; Kismet, H. Gann; Guillemot, Miss B. Fleming; Dabchick, F. Beeching; Barnacle, I. Acland; Onoway, P. Hicks and G. Wallace; and Falcon, G. A. Heal, all on the starboard tack.

Tern soon came about onto starboard tack, while Barnacle and Margaret changed over to port tack, standing inshore for a short distance. Ten minutes later all boats were standing out into the bay on the starboard tack, with Dabchick, Tern and Kismet leading the fleet out towards Flower Island.

The stars, meanwhile, were ready to get away, and at 10:31 were over the line, Boykin in the lead and to windward end of the line, Taseko abreast of Boykin to leeward; Mintaka one-half minute later, on Taseko's weather quarter; Genii one minute later. Standing over to Flower Island, Boykin worked out a four-minute lead from Taseko, with Mintaka another four minutes astern of Taseko, and Genii well astern.

The conditions of the race allow the contestants to choose which way round the islands they take, and two stars and two dinghies elected to go north about the islands, were Boykin (R. Blandy) and Taseko (Tomalin and Adams), of the star class; Tern (H. Goby) and Margaret (Miss M. Lindsay), dinghies.

Tern was well ahead of Margaret, going well towards Puffin Reef, while Dabchick and Kismet, who were going south about, had obtained a lead of more than half of an hour from the rest of the dinghies. Mintaka (W. Barrett) and Genii (N. Blandy), following the dinghies to the south, did not seem to be able to get going, and looked as if they would be out of the race.

Following those boats going south-erly, one saw a wide variety of opinion displayed by the skippers as to the best way to take advantage of the tide and light airs, some hugging the Chatham Island shore line, while others stood over to the Chain Islands. Those who chose the latter course proved to be right, for the tide gave them a strong boost down to Commodore Point.

Nearing this point the wind became fickle, swinging from all over the compass, and eventually leaving both Dabchick and Kismet becalmed, while Guillemot, Onoway, Barnacle and Falcon crept up on them with a light westerly, Barnacle, which had established a lead over the other three boats of this group, got too close inshore, where she lost the wind and full force of the tide, and had to sit there and watch them pass her on the back of the tide.

It was then about 11:15, and the position was Kismet and Dabchick becalmed between Commodore Point and the lighthouse, Guillemot coming up from astern leading Onoway and Falcon, while Barnacle crawled in and out of the kelp, close inshore. At 11:20, Tern was seen coming round the lighthouse point from the north side of Discovery Island, sailing well with a good breeze from the south, on the starboard tack. A few minutes later the two star boats, Boykin and Taseko came into sight, practically level, but Taseko, slightly to leeward, also on the starboard tack.

All three boats held this tack until well abreast of the lighthouse, when first Tern, and then the two stars, came about to stand inshore. In doing so they had to run into the calm patch that was holding Kismet and Dabchick (going the opposite way), and somewhere in this patch Taseko picked up a favorable breath of air to ghost past Boykin. Tern, meanwhile, sat still.

After drifting about for twenty minutes, a light breeze from S.W. found its way to the boats, enabling Dabchick and Kismet to set spinners, with which sails they managed to move up to the distinct line of wind abreast of the lighthouse. Once into it they were away off up the north side of the islands towards Puffin Reef and home. Guillemot took another ten minutes to reach the true wind, and then followed suit. Onoway, Falcon and Barnacle were still drifting along another fifteen minutes behind Guillemot. During this time, Margaret had rounded the light, and joined Tern in the calm spot, though she was some way astern. Taseko and Boykin were tacking back and forth to Commodore Point, and on the way met Mintaka and Genii running before the lightest of westerly airs. The tide, meanwhile, had turned, and whilst it favored the two latter boats on their way to the lighthouse point, it was beginning to be a distinct handicap to Taseko and Boykin in their efforts to round Commodore Point. Tern and Margaret were in the same predicament. We left them there, fighting it out with the tide, whilst we followed the boats up the north side.

Dabchick were still well ahead, Dabchick about four or five lengths ahead of Kismet. Guillemot, all alone, ten minutes astern of them. The rest of the dinghies, and the two stars, were another twenty minutes behind Guillemot again. Two of the dinghies, Barnacle and Onoway, took the passage inside the chain of small islets which lie off-shore of Discovery proper, but whilst reducing the distance slightly, they lost some of the power of the tide.

The tide at Ten Mile Point had not developed its full flood strength by the time Dabchick and Kismet made the cross-tide to Jones Island, but there was plenty running between the island and the point, and it was at this point that Dabchick, standing a shade too far into the tide stream, had to watch Kismet sail past her, to weather, to establish a lead that was never to be lost.

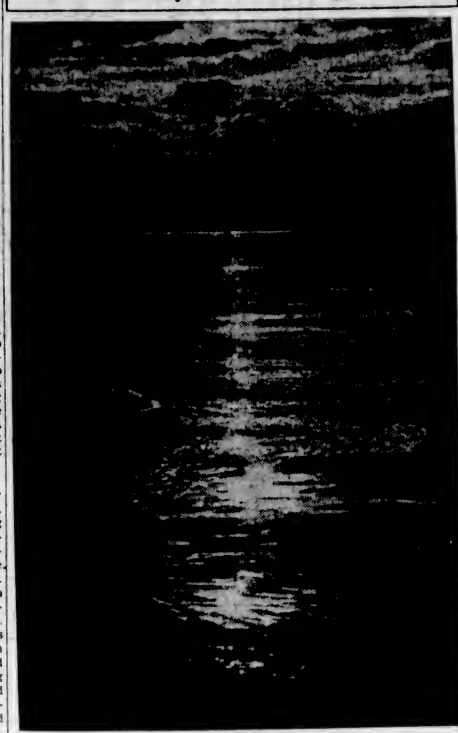

From the other direction, coming into the bay, was Taseko, well ahead of Boykin. Tern and Margaret, not in sight, so it looked as if Kismet was to be the winner of the Chatham Island Cup, with Taseko taking the Discovery Island Cup.

The choice for second place in the stars was a matter for speculation, for Mintaka, sailing faster with the wind abeam, was rapidly closing with Boykin, which had the wind dead astern. As they closed in from opposite sides of the islands, it looked as if Mintaka had the better of it, and by the time they had entered Cadboro Bay for the run home, Mintaka was well ahead.

Taseko was first boat of either class to cross the finishing line, doing so at 12:48:55, having taken 2 hrs. 17 mins. 55 secs. to do the same distance, which is good going for a fourteen-foot dinghy in light airs. Those two boats won in their respective classes, and the official finishing times were: Taseko, 12:48:55; Mintaka, 12:54:18; Boykin, 12:56:08; Genii, time not taken; Kismet, 12:49:55; Dabchick, 12:50:46; Guillemot, 1:02:10; Tern, 1:02:38; Barnacle, 1:30:07; Falcon, 1:48:50; Onoway and Margaret, times not taken.

The race between Guillemot and Tern, in spite of them having gone round in opposite directions, was close enough to provide a thrill.

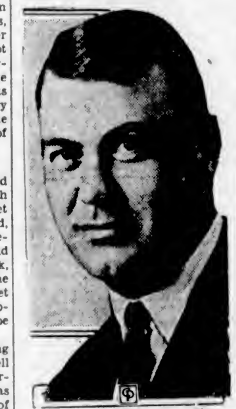

"Flo Filmer, the movie star, is very fond of working in her garden." "I suppose she enjoys having a real plot to work in."

ROTARY LEADER WILL VISIT CITY

International President R. L. Hill Will Speak to Club on August 23

Robert L. Hill, president of Rotary International, will be a visitor to Victoria next week when he will be the speaker-guest at the local Rotary Club.

President Hill will address the regular weekly luncheon of the club on Thursday, August 23, in the Empress Hotel, and due to the fact that time will not permit him to visit all the clubs, the Victoria Rotarians have invited the Rotary Clubs of Nanaimo, Duncan, Port Angeles, Sequim, and Anacortes to meet with them here.

Possessing a great personality, and being a wonderful speaker, Mr. Hill is assured of a hearty welcome here on what will probably be his only visit to Victoria during his term as International Rotary president.

ELECTED IN DETROIT

Mr. Hill, who is secretary of the Alumni Association of the University of Missouri at Columbia, was this summer elected Rotary leader at the international convention held in Detroit. He visited Victoria two years ago, prior to the international Rotary conclave in Seattle, at which he was chairman of the convention committee.

At the Victoria Rotary Club meeting on Thursday next, Rotarian P. B. Fowler, a new member of the organization, will speak on "My Observations of Conditions in England."

GREAT-WEST AGENTS WILL HOLD CONCLAVE IN ALBERTA SHORTLY

The Great-West Life Assurance Company will hold a three-day business conference, September 5-7, at Jasper Park, Alberta, for its leading representatives in the West. Forty-two agents and two branch managers, together with several head office officials, will attend.

WAS BURIED YESTERDAY

The funeral of the late Miss Mary Turner was held yesterday afternoon. Relatives and many friends attended the service conducted by Dr. Clem Davies. Beautiful floral wreaths and sprays surrounded the casket, and the hymns sung were "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." The pallbearers were W. E. Gerrie, James McNeill, Adam McPherson, M. Turner, W. Harper and A. Mackie. Interment took place in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Mrs. Alice Watson Removed by Death In Hospital Here

There passed away on Sunday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Mrs. Alice Watson, widow of Thomas Watson, aged fifty-four years. She was a native of England and had been a resident of Victoria for the past fifteen years, her late residence being 343 Sylvia Street.

She is survived by two sons, Rowland and Gordon Lewis Watson, and one daughter, Enid May, at the family residence; two stepdaughters, Mrs. J. Phillips, Deerholme, Duncan, and Mrs. Robert Watson, of Bellingham; also her mother and brothers and sisters in England.

The remains are resting at the Thomson Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street, where the funeral service will take place on Wednesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Thomas Keyworth will officiate, and interment will be made in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

JOSEPH GEORGE TO STAND TRIAL

Last of Merritt Indians Accused of Murder Will Come Up for Hearing

The preliminary hearing in the case of Joseph George, one of the four Indians charged with the murder of F. H. Glasborne and Percy Carr, at the Canford Reserve on Nicola River, on May 23, 1934, is to be held at Merritt on September 15.

Stuart Henderson, who is appearing as counsel for the four Indians, three of whom have been convicted and sentenced to death on October 26, will proceed to Merritt to represent the accused.

At the time of the trial of his brother, whose cases have been appealed and will be argued by Mr. Henderson at the opening of the October sitting of the Court of Appeal in Vancouver, Joseph was excused from standing trial, since he was completely deaf as a result of injuries alleged to have been received at the time of the murder. His case is now being launched, with the preliminary hearing set for September 15.

"How do you like these two poems I submitted?" asked the young poet.

TORONTO TRIO PLAYS AT BANFF

Instrumentalists, Assisted by Miss Frances Jarries, Delight Holiday Audience

BANFF, Aug. 13.—Three young Toronto musicians, the stylishly dressed Toronto Trio, played their talents in a memorable concert here, in Mount Stephen Hall, of the Banff Springs Hotel, relying entirely on the accepted classics.

Murray Adaskin, violin; John Adaskin, cello, and Louis Crerar, piano, assisted by the fresh-voiced soprano, Miss Frances Jarries, performed the music of one Russian and seven German composers, and the large audience responded warmly as though it had never heard the ancient leader or the alleged difficulties of enjoying great music. The trio played Mendelssohn's "Andante Expressivo in C Minor," three of Brahms' "Hungarian Dances," and Tschakovsky's "Capriccio Italien," their tone always sensitively balanced and their understanding of the music clear and spontaneous. Their capable adaptation of Tschakovsky's orchestra piece, the humbler medium of three instruments deserves special praise. It was a daring thing to do, and came off excellently by reason of close team work.

SHOWS IMPROVEMENT
Miss Jarries' work showed a remarkable improvement since her former engagement here a couple of seasons ago. She sings easily and has an uncanny control of pianissimo.

Her English group consisted of Handel's "Where'er You Walk" and Bach's "Wilt Thou to Me Thy Heart Give" reputedly his only song set to an avowed lyric. But as usual, he invests this music with unearthly gentleness and compassion. Miss Jarries gave it tender, melting expression.

SINGS IN GERMAN
She then sang in German, Schubert's "Gretchen Am Spinnrad," Richard Strauss' "Bretel Reuer Mein Haupt Dein Schwarze Haar," and Marx's "Hat Dich Die Liebe Beuehrt," her German diction being exceedingly clear throughout. She rose to real heights in the Schubert song. Her accompanist, Mr. Crerar, distinguished himself, for the song would have lost much without his sympathetic interpretation of the despairing hum of the spinning wheel. Miss Jarries showed her instinctive sense of style when she changed the whole range of her expression in the romantic Strauss song. The entire group was recalled many times by the audience.

JACK ROGERS SHOWS FORM

Local Detective Compiles Great Score in Seattle Police Shoot

Beating out Police Sergeant Kellars, Burnaby, reputed to be the best revolver shot on the Pacific Coast, Detective Jack Rogers, of the Victoria force, won the grand aggregate, Sunday, at the annual Seattle revolver meet for police of Canada and the Northwest.

Shooting in splendid form, Detective Rogers registered one first, two seconds and one third to gather ninety points.

On returning to Victoria, yesterday, Detective Rogers said he was very pleased. He explained he gained his two second-place honors in the events for major and chiefs, or their representatives. Detective Rogers represented Mayor David Leeming and Chief Thomas Heatley at the meet. Constable Arthur Phillips also represented the local force at Seattle.

MRS. F. L. SOUTH AND FINDLAY WIN MEET

Mrs. F. L. South and A. D. Findlay captured the mixed fours knockout competition, which has been in progress for some time, at the Uplands Golf Club Sunday, when they defeated Mr. and Mrs. E. H. M. Foot in the eighteen-hole final by a half up. The winners started the final round under a handicap of four and a half holes. It was a nip-and-tuck tussle, ending in the last green. In the semifinals, the winners put out Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Matthews, three and a half up and two to play, while the runners-up took the measure of Miss M. Hatch and M. R. Pearce, one and a half up.

COOL OFF

By Cooling Your Blood

It is when the heat gets into your blood that you begin to "feel the heat." Take a sparkling, invigorating glass of Andrews Liver Salt at such times. Taken while it is still effervescent, Andrews will have an almost immediate cooling effect, because it is not a delicious, thirst-queller, but a means of cooling your blood.

You will feel cooler for hours after taking Andrews—and more vigorous, too. Andrews, indeed, is a splendid conditioner when taken occasionally the year round, say about twice each week.

If you pursue common-sense principles in your living, eating and sleeping habits and take Andrews occasionally, you will escape all the minor mal-adjustments which occur in every normal system.

HOOKS FINE SALMON

Capt. A. Torrie, Windermere Hotel, hooked a twenty-two-pound salmon, Sunday afternoon, at Brentwood, while he was fishing as a guest of P. E. W. "Doc" Smith, 110 Medina Street, and J. P. Hall, 40 Howe Street. He was unable to qualify as a member of the Chinook Club by reason of the fact that he has not yet become a member of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association. However, in order to avoid future disappointment in this connection, Captain Torrie has decided to join the association.

STRIKE RIOTS AT BRAMPTON

Workmen Met With Barrage of Missiles on Leaving Factory

BRAMPTON, Ont., Aug. 13 (CP). Rocks, sticks and tomatoes were tossed by strikers tonight when twenty-five strike breakers emerged from the Williams shoe factory. Six special constables, called in from Quebec earlier in the day, also were targets for the missiles.

Several fist fights broke out and windows of a hotel were broken. The strike breakers were hustled out of the back door of the hotel where they were lodged and sent home.

Constables who fought to quell the riot declared it was worse than clashes which occurred in Stratford and Kitchener during furniture workers' strikes.

During the melee, Mayor J. S. Beck called Toronto for twelve special constables, but the disturbances were brought under control and the officers were not required.

RACE STRAIN IS PURE IN QUEBEC

Only Two Places Outside the Province Where Whole Population of One Origin

OTTAWA, Aug. 13.—If one looks for racial purity in Canada it would appear Quebec is the place to find it. Following up the Dominion census of 1931, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics has made an analysis of the population of Canada on racial lines.

A glance down through the long list of municipalities, from large cities to rural townships and small hamlets, reveals few places where the population is wholly of one race. With two exceptions they are in the Province of Quebec, and the racial origin is French.

Thus, in the County of Arthabaska, Quebec, there are several townships and villages populated wholly by people of French origin. St. Clotilde-de-Horton, with a solid French population of 1,433, is one. The situation is not uncommon in rural Quebec.

Ontario has only one such place, the township of Jennings, in the district of Sudbury, where the scattered population of 146 is all French. The only other such place in Canada, and the only one where a non-French racial group has a monopoly, is the township of Hampton, in Annapolis County, Nova Scotia, where every one of the 314 people is of English origin.

The Indian reserves, of course, are set apart by law for that race, and in most cases contain no others.

Alaskan Steamer Floated by Tugs

SEATTLE, Aug. 13 (AP).—The Ss. Starr, which went aground on Egg Island, in the Shumagin Group, in Alaska, today, was floated by tugs coast guard headquarters here was informed tonight. No further details were immediately available.

The Starr, small but sturdily built, was last seen on Saturday.

Found in River—The body of an unidentified man in rough working clothes was taken from the Fraser River, on Saturday, by the Hope detachment of Provincial Police.

No record of persons missing matches the description of the remains, which was as follows: Age about forty-five; height, 5 feet 11 inches; noticeably bald; tooth missing, upper jaw in front; blue shirt; blue overalls; low, black shoes; head topped; no means of identification otherwise. Efforts to identify the remains are being made by the police.

Committed for Trial—In the Oak Bay police court yesterday morning Magistrate Jay disposed of the preliminary hearing of the charge against Clifford Hutchinson of the alleged theft of a car from the vicinity of the Royal Yacht Club. The accused was committed for trial and immediately following, appeared before Judge J. Charles McIntosh in the County Court, where his counsel, Gordon Cameron, obtained bail, which was fixed at $500 in two sureties. Magistrate Jay, at the hearing, corrected a newspaper report that he had said that police evidence and that of the young lady concerned in the case did not harmonize. The magistrate declared that he had said the report given by the accused to the Oak Bay police did not harmonize with the evidence of the young lady.

Wedding Is Celebrated At Oak Bay

Rev. R. E. M. Yerrburgh celebrated the marriage in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, on Sunday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock of Helen Josephine, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Redding, 1741 Lee Avenue, and Mr. John Windram Harris, eldest son of the late Mr. J. T. Harris, London, and of Mrs. Harris, Port Alberni. Mr. F. T. C. Wickett played the wedding march, and accompanied Mr. F. W. Francis, who sang "O Father, All Creating," as the registrar was being signed.

The radiant bride, who was given away by her father, wore a simply fashioned gown of dull white silk crepe, with a bolero jacket fastened

Weddings

FRASER-JOHNSON

A marriage of considerable interest was celebrated on Friday, August 10, at St. Helen's Church, Vancouver, when Dorothy, eldest daughter of Mrs. B. Johnson, 4508 West Thirteenth Avenue, and the late Lieutenant Bernard Copstead Johnson, was united in marriage to Mr. Douglas Plaskett Fraser, only son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Fraser, of Osoyoos. Mrs. Johnson is a former resident of Gordon Head, and the bride has been for the past year a member of the teaching staff of St. Margaret's School. Both bride and groom are honors graduates of the 1932 class of the University of British Columbia. The ceremony, which took place at noon, was performed by Very Rev. C. S. Quinlan, Dean of Columbia. The bride, in a gown of white tulle, was escorted in marriage by Mr. George Hoyland, attended by her sister, Miss Patricia Johnson. Mr. Kenneth Plaskett, cousin of the groom, was best man. After the wedding, the guests were received at the home of the bride by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Fraser. After a short honeymoon spent in the Cariboo, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fraser will make their home at Osoyoos.

RUSSELL-DAWES

NANAIMO, Aug. 13.—A pretty wedding was celebrated on Friday evening at St. Andrew's United Church, Rev. W. P. Bunt officiating, when Mabel, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Russell, youngest son of the late Mr. Alce Russell and Mrs. Brighton, of South Wellington, were united in matrimony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a pale-colored tulle gown, and carried a bouquet of white roses and a corsage bouquet of pastel-shaded sweet peas and fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Ethel Edwards, chose a silk swag of blue and white. White accessories and a corsage of summer bloom completed her attire. The groom was supported by Mr. Abe Russell. During the signing of the register, Mrs. A. P. Boulanger sang "At Dawning." She was accompanied by Mrs. W. P. Bunt. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at McGarrigle's Hall, Northfield, where the couple were assisted in receiving the guests by the bride's mother, who wore a dress of black crepe de Chine with green accessories. The hall was beautifully decorated, the bride's table being centred with a three-tier wedding cake. The evening was spent in dancing and a musical programme, many friends of the happy couple contributing solos. Mr. and Mrs. Russell are spending their honeymoon in Vancouver and the Sound cities.

The Government seems very anxious to stop these people who go about stirring up peace. — Mr. Pitt, K.C.

Was Married on Saturday

GERMAN ACTRESS
NOW AT DOMINION

Marlene Dietrich Plays Leading Role in "The Scarlet Empress"

"The Scarlet Empress," which will be shown for the first time at the Dominion Theatre today, brings Marlene Dietrich in a role that is ideally suited to her type and talent. Laid in a setting of the Russian court of the early eighteenth century, the lavish scenes plunge the beholder into the exotic, semi-barbaric atmosphere that prevailed in the Muscovite heyday of power. Betrothed as a child through the machinations of statesmen, who took no heed of the feelings of a young girl, Sophia Frederica is espoused to the half-mad Grand Duke, and her unhappy life in the sumptuous palace is fraught with glamour, bitterness and drama. The picture is outstanding not only for the power of the plot, but through the compelling grandeur of every scene, recapturing, as it does, the almost Oriental glories of a vanished dynasty.

EMPIRE "The Return of Raffles" starring Clive Brook and Allison Skipworth

"The Return of Raffles," another thrilling story of the adventures of Raffles, opened at the Empire Theatre yesterday. The entire production was filmed in England and is featuring a new star, George Barrard in the name of this brilliant actor who steals the show. Claude Allister and Camilla Horn are also seen in the cast. "Midnight Club" starring Clive Brook and Allison Skipworth, is seen as the added attraction.

PLAYHOUSE Few actors permit the use of their own names to the characters they portray on the screen. Notable exceptions to this general rule are Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy who are co-starred in the Hal Roach-M-G-M full-length comedy feature, "Sons of the Desert," now playing at the Playhouse Theatre.

MURDER MYSTERY AT CAPITOL TOMORROW

The playing of dual roles by film actors is not unusual in pictures, but a most amazing double characterization is enacted by one of the members of the cast in the first National murder picture, "The Man With Two Faces," showing at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow. It is amazing because, while almost always the spectator knows who has the dual role, in this instance it is impossible to detect the man who wears two faces until he reveals himself by removing his disguise. Among the members of the cast, any one of whom might be the man with two faces, are Edward G. Robinson, Mary Astor, Ricardo Cortez, Mae Clarke, Louis Calhern, Arthur Byron, John Eldredge, David Landau, Emily Fitzroy, Henry O'Neill, Arthur Aylesworth, Margaret Dale and Virginia Sale.

CHAPTER XV

"I just done told you, Mr. Coggs," Oswald stopped. "I was silent. Then Oswald continued: 'Honest, Mr. Alby, that's the only thing I can tell you. I never see him scarcely 'cept when he comes down to see I ain't wastin' no coal, or to tell me to fix something. Sometimes he gets kind of snippy, but the way he cools down, but even good landlords get that away—'

"So he's not a good landlord?"

"I never said he wasn't good. Only kinda stingy."

"And Mrs. Coggs—is she stingy too?"

Oswald grinned. "Jest ask Morilda! Last week Mrs. Coggs she had the indignation, and didn't drink but half her cup of tea for breakfast. And when Morilda went to throw the rest out, Mrs. Coggs she says, 'Leave it be, I'll heat it up for lunch.'"

"If they're so economical, how do you account for their forgetting to turn off their ice box?"

"Lawdy, boss, it's folks like that that does forget. Yesterday's the second time since they had the ice box put in, they done forgot to turn it off."

"What do you know about the Tidewells who live across the street?"

"Don't know nothin', Mr. Alby, 'cept what their janitor says."

"What does their janitor say?"

"They done been in a bad fix. Seems like they usta be actors, but they ain't had jobs for a long time. But lately they got prosperin' again—maybe. Anyhow, their janitor says they's more orange peels in their garbage than any garbage in this block. He concludes they're giving rent parties."

"Rent parties?"

"Maybe that ain't white folks' name for it. In Harlem, folks give rent parties when they can't scrape their own rent. And people that's invited, they give what they kin."

"So the Tidewells give rent parties?"

"Well, the janitor of that house, he don't rightly know. He only says the owner of the building don't give them notice to move, and all of a sudden they began entertainin', and they don't go to move. They knows real famous people, and swells, too, the Tidewells do."

"Do the Tidewells know the Coggses?"

"No, boss. They ain't the same stripe folks at all. The Tidewells is the kind that even when they're broke they find a piece of chance for the janitor."

"Did you ever see anybody out there in the other room going into the Tidewells'?"

"Yes, I seed the one you call Mr. Wilcox. He goes sometimes of a Saturday."

"Oswald," asked Alby solemnly, "who do you think did that murder?"

"It's got me beat, boss. Seems like nobody could do a one it. Mr. Dinnard, well, he did know what the lady looked like, but the more I meditates the more it seems like he couldn't a swung himself to a one it. And the Coggses they wasn't even here, and Miss Sayre wouldn't a done a mean thing like that, and me and Morilda wouldn't. Seems like it musta been committed by what they call persons unknown."

"All right Oswald," Alby stood up. "We won't need you any more today. You might run up and tell Morilda we may see her tomorrow, on 'Twelfth Street.'"

By this time Dr. Coe, the bellboy and the clerk from the Hoti Astrakan had arrived. Alby spoke with the two latter for a moment, instructed them to wait in the outer room with the -thers, and to see if they could recognize among the persons present the Dennis Swift who had registered last night. The sheet taken from the hotel register Alby sent in to Rankin, the handwriting expert. Then he summoned Dr. Coe. Dr. Coe, despite the tired habitual droop of his shoulders, and the unhappy distracted expression of the moment, looked distinguished. His sparse white hair waved back from his high forehead, and his eyes were very dark, under white eyebrows. He looked much older than his fifty years.

Alby began the interview in a deferential tone. "I must ask you, Dr. Coe, to tell me where you were from yesterday at one-thirty until you came home this morning."

"We could, in fact, lock you up," said Harrod.

"You still refuse?" Alby demanded. The bewildered expression came back upon Dr. Coe's face, but he made no answer.

Alby, too, was silent, looking from one to another, before he said: "We'll have Mrs. Coe in. Perhaps she can persuade Dr. Coe to explain."

Dr. Coe was startled into speech. "You're not dragged her down here!"

A moment later Mrs. Coe entered. "Willard!" she exclaimed. "Willard, you're ill!" And she ran to him, her small gloved hands grasping his arms, her tipped-up head only reaching his chin. "Tell me, what is it, dear?"

As his harrassed eyes looked down at her, he seemed an old man, and the difference in their ages even greater than it was. Even his voice seemed old as he answered her coldly. "I'm in excellent health, Paula. Bearing an act of God, you can't count on natural widowhood for some years."

"Willard that's a gruesome joke. It's not like you."

"Well, well, consistency has its drawbacks," Coe said, firmly, he detached her hands.

Alby asked everybody to sit down again. He then explained to Mrs. Coe the importance of knowing where Dr. Coe had been, "For his own sake, Mrs. Coe. He was seen at the corner of Twelfth and Fifth Avenue at about 6:40 last night."

Mrs. Coe's agitation increased. She turned to her husband. "But surely, Willard, you'll explain—"

He looked steadily at her, and shook his head.

"But there can't be any reason—"

It was as if for the first time it occurred to her to wonder about it. "Where were you at home?"

"Then where on earth?"

"Inconceivable, I suppose," he said to her in a tired voice, "that a husband might not wish to tell his wife where—"

"Willard! You are sick. You'd never say a thing like that, even joking—"

"I fear," Alby cut in, "that we'll have to postpone this discussion till later. Several witnesses must get back to their jobs. Harrod, you might call the others. Sit down here, Dr. Coe. And Mrs. Coe, over there next to Mr. Wilcox. Miss Sayre," he continued as Adelaide and the Coggses filed in, "here, Paula, who looked as if he had been carrying Harrod indicated chairs."

"You want the first too?" asked

Harrod. "Higgins is talking to him."

"I'll take the first first, but have the others come in, too. And tell Higgins I'm ready."

"First? What first?" asked Mrs. Coggs.

No one answered her, for a plump, apple-cheeked boy of sixteen, whose name was Joe Timmott, and a drab middle-aged man, John Steng, were being shepherded into the room by Harrod. And a moment later, at another door, Higgins appeared, with Arthur Hibbard, a thin, pale man, who looked as if he had been carrying Harrod indicated chairs.

MUCH INTEREST

James Morton Mentioned as Possible Successor to Late B.C. Librarian

In the absence of Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, yesterday, there was no official declaration as to what the Government intends to do in connection with the vacancy created by the death of the late John Hodge, former librarian and archivist. Many were reported as seeking the position.

James Morton, biographer of the late Hon. John Oliver and for several years his private secretary, was mentioned in circles close to the ministry as among those under consideration for the post.

Long identified with the Provincial service in the Premier's office, the Bureau of Information and otherwise, Mr. Morton is well-known and popular in the service with which he was connected up to a few months ago.

The Government will await the return of the Provincial Secretary before taking any decisive step in the matter, it was intimated during the day.

Uncle (to industrious youth)—"What are you studying, Johnny?"

Johnny—"Gosnell!"

Uncle—"What's that—a new language?"

Johnny—"No, just one goshinler two, two goshinler four, three goshinler six."

Dr. Coe seemed to drag his thoughts back from some far-flung reach. "I'm very sorry," he replied with quiet dignity, "I have nothing to say."

"I don't think you understand, Dr. Coe. A murder has been committed."

"There's nothing to do with me," Dr. Coe's voice was weary. "If I could help you in any way, I should be glad to. But at present, I'm very—very busy and tired. I know nothing about your murder. Now, I must go, if you please."

"Not just yet," Alby's manner sharpened. "You were near the scene of the murder at the time it was committed."

"Haven't you read the papers?"

"No."

"And you know nothing about the murder of the girl on Twelfth Street?"

"Nothing."

"You were seen at the corner of Fifth Avenue and Twelfth Street within half an hour of the murder. Now do you understand the importance of answering questions?"

"No!" Dr. Coe's manner had become frigid.

Alby reached for the dagger, which some papers had hidden from Dr. Coe. At the sight of it, Dr. Coe demanded: "How did that get here?"

"The murder was committed with it."

"Oh—oh no! Not that, too!"

"What do you mean 'too'?"

Dr. Coe ran his thin hand over his head, but said nothing.

"This, and several other clues lead to your museum. Now please account for your actions yesterday and last night."

"I see why you ask. I can only assure you there is no connection."

"And you expect us to believe," Alby continued, "that you knew nothing of this murder. That you got into your house, which bristled with police, that you went to sleep, and were awakened and brought down here by a detective without even asking what it was all about?"

Dr. Coe shook his head, as if to clear it. "I don't expect you to believe it. I don't care whether you believe it. It's true. I have had more important—"

"More important preoccupations," he concluded. "I can offer you, however, the co-operation of my small staff."

"Every member of your small staff, including yourself, and with the exception of Marlin, who seems to have done a disappearing act, were almost present at the crime."

"The whole staff—crime—Marlin disappeared—oh no." Dr. Coe more shook his head, as if to shake off a nightmare. "Oh no," he concluded, as if that settled it.

Alby turned to Harrod. "Get Dinnard and Wilcox."

At their names, Dr. Coe's eyes clouded and the lines deepened in his forehead and about his mouth.

"Dr. Coe! Are you all right?" Sheridan inquired eagerly, the moment he entered the room. Wilcox, too, was ignored the question, ignored Wilcox, but demanded, unsmiling: "What's this about Marlin?"

Sheridan explained briefly the circumstances of Marlin's disappearance. Dr. Coe seemed hardly to listen; in fact, he could not have taken in the gist of the matter, for when Sheridan finished he said absently: "He'll probably explain it tomorrow." And then to Alby: "Now, I'm sorry, but I must go home."

"Not just yet, Dr. Coe. You don't seem to realize that we can hold you as a suspect. Your refusal to explain your whereabouts yesterday—"

Dr. Coe's mouth clamped tight shut.

"We could, in fact, lock you up," said Harrod.

"You still refuse?" Alby demanded. The bewildered expression came back upon Dr. Coe's face, but he made no answer.

Alby, too, was silent, looking from one to another, before he said: "We'll have Mrs. Coe in. Perhaps she can persuade Dr. Coe to explain."

Dr. Coe was startled into speech. "You're not dragged her down here!"

ABBOTT IS MEDALIST IN SENIORS' GOLF MEET

Run in Last Frame Gives Cafemen Win Over Tillicums, 1-0

Poodle Dog Cafe Noses Out Clubmen in Opening Game of Play-Off Series After Great Battle—Jones and Holness in Pitching Duel

USHING over the only marker of the game, in the last half of the ninth inning, on an error, a stolen base and a single to left field by Nicholson, Poodle Dog Cafe nine eked out a 1-0 victory over a fighting Tillicums ball club in the opening play-off fixture of the Senior Baseball League, played at the Royal Athletic Park, yesterday evening. The second game of the three-out-of-five series will be played tomorrow night, commencing at 6:15 o'clock.

The clubs played smart ball behind the effective hurling of Bill Holness, of the Poodle Dog Cafe, and Lloyd Jones, of the Tillicums, and until the break came, in the last inning, it was anybody's ball game.

For eight and a half innings, goose egg after goose egg was hung up on the scoreboard, until there threatened to be a shortage of numerals, but the Dogs avoided any possibility of such a thing happening when they pushed over their lone tally in the ninth inning.

MOUND DUEL

Jones, who did the hurling for the clubmen, held the cafemen to three scattered bingles and breezed two. Holness, his opponent on the mound, was picked for five safeties, three of which were from the bat of Barnwell, covering the hot corner for the Tillicums. He fanned seven.

Free transportation, like safeties, was scarce, only one walk being issued, and that by Jones, in the eighth inning.

HEINIE MANUSH FAILS TO HIT

Big Six Batting Leader Goes Hitless in Four Trips to Plate

(By the Associated Press)

Heinie Manush, the only member of baseball's Big Six to get into action yesterday, saw his batting average drop to .383, a decline of four points, when he failed to get a hit in four trips to the plate. The result left him with only a twelve-point lead over Charley Gehring.

The standing:

STORM OVER CRICKET XI IS IN AIR

Selection of England's Team for Final Test Match May Draw Criticism

LONDON, Aug. 13 (CP).—A storm of controversy arose today, coincident with the announcement of the men whom England will select for the fifth and decisive cricket test match with Australia. The match gets underway Saturday, and will be fought to a finish. Australia won the first match, England the second, and the third and fourth were drawn.

Fourteen men from whom the actual team will be chosen, Saturday morning, are as follows: R. E. S. Wyatt, Warwickshire; Herbert Sutcliffe, Yorkshire; C. F. Walters, Worcester; Maurice Leyland, Yorkshire; Leslie Ames, Kent; G. O. Allen, Middlesex; Hedley Verity, Yorkshire; William Bowes, Yorkshire; Alfred Gover, Surrey; Edward Clark, Northampton; A. R. Peles, Middlesex; Wally Hammond, Gloucestershire; and R. J. Gregory, Surrey.

TENNIS HONORS WON BY C.P.R.

Capture Third Division, Vancouver Island League Championship, in Fine Fashion

Playing on their home courts, Sunday afternoon, C.P.R. tennis players battled to a 4-4 draw with Langford, in a Third Division, Vancouver Island Tennis League fixture. It was the last scheduled game of the season for the Canadian Pacific squad, and gave them the championship, held last year by the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club.

Five matches remain to be played in the league schedule, one in the Second Division and four in the Women's Division. These matches will be played as soon as suitable dates can be arranged.

Scores of Sunday's match, with C.P.R. players first mentioned, follow:

Women's Doubles

Mrs. Clark and Miss C. Green won from Mrs. Bayles and Mrs. LeQueane, 6-1, 6-4.

Men's Doubles

Misses Newnam and P. Pierce won from Misses Hinks and G. Hebben, 6-2, 6-2.

Men's Singles

E. Cox and J. C. Clark lost to Wilkinson and Brown, 2-6, 6-5, 6-4.

R. Sheret and McLeod won from LeQueane and Seals, 3-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Mixed Doubles

Mrs. Clark and E. Cox lost to Mrs. Bayles and Brown, 6-3, 6-4.

Seeded Net Stars In Easy Wins at Forest Hills Meet

Betty Nuthall, British Star, and Helen Jacobs, in Straight-Set Victories—Canada's Representatives Eliminated—Matches Played on Rain-Soaked Courts

By BOB CAVANAGHO Associated Press Sports Writer.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Aug. 13 (AP).—Playing on rain-soaked courts as slippery as a dance floor, the eight seeded United States and foreign stars, paced by Champion Helen Jacobs, today survived the first round of the forty-seventh annual women's national tennis championship.

Miss Jacobs opened the tournament by whitewashing Marjorie Sachs, of Cambridge, Mass., in straight sets without the loss of a game.

Miss Jacobs' brilliant showing served to encourage those who had visions of the title crossing the Atlantic this year with Betty Nuthall, the bounding English star, who turned the trick in 1930.

Miss Nuthall eliminated Priscilla Merwin, of Los Angeles, with almost as much dispatch, 6-1, 6-1. She ran Miss Merwin dizzy from corner to corner with deep backhand shots, and played brilliantly at the net.

Canada's entrants, two Toronto girls, went out in the opening round. Jean Burritt was defeated by Dorothy Andrus, of Stamford, Conn., the fourth seeded home-bred, 6-0, 6-2, while Effie Hinkle wilted before Baroness Maud Levy, of Minden, Nev., 6-1, 6-1.

Sarah Palfrey, Brookline, Mass.

and Caroline Babcock, Los Angeles, seeded second and third, respectively, in the American group, gained the second round. Miss Palfrey easily defeated Ruby Bishop, of San Marino, Cal., 6-0, 6-0, while Miss Babcock met with stubborn opposition from Josephine Cruickshank, of Santa Ana, Cal., before winning, 6-1, 6-4.

Also winning first round matches were Katherine Stammer and Freda James, of England, and Elizabeth Ryan, a Californian, who has lived and played in England many years.

Miss Stammer defeated Helen Pederson, Stamford, Conn., 6-3, 7-5. Miss James conquered Mrs. Virginia Erb, of Buffalo, 6-2, 6-1, and Miss Ryan took the measure of Eunice Dean, of San Antonio, Texas, 6-2, 6-2.

MOTORCYCLE POLO BILLED

Many Thrills Planned for Hudson's Bay Night at Beacon Hill

Thrills galore are promised the thousands of people who are expected to make their way to Beacon Hill, on the evening of Wednesday, August 22, to witness the monster sports programme being arranged by the Hudson's Bay Company. The proceeds from the event will be given to the Mill Bay Solarium.

One of the most exciting events on the card promises to be the motorcycle polo match between members of the Victoria Motorcycle Club. The game will be played in two five-minute periods, with a rest interval. During the intermission leading riders will be seen in a number of brilliant riding stunts that should produce plenty of thrills.

The most spectacular item will be the torchlight parade to be presented by the members of the Victoria Motorcycle Club, mounted on their machines and carrying varied-colored lights. This number has only been presented twice previously on Vancouver Island.

Gen. Frampson, president of the Victoria Motorcycle Club, is in charge of this part of the programme.

LARGE ENTRY IN ANNUAL TOURNEY

Big Field Will Complete in Banff Golf Week, August 26 to 28—Seven Events Listed

BANFF, Alta., Aug. 12.—Entries from the Atlantic clear across to the Pacific Coast have already been received for Banff's golf week, August 26 to 28, featuring the play for the Prince of Wales Trophy and the Willingdon Cup, on the course of the Banff Springs Hotel. "Bill" Thomson, Banff professional, declared he already has definite entries from New York, Halifax, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, Trail, Vancouver and Victoria. He is confident of a total of over 200 entries in the week's seven events, which include the two main attractions, three women's competitions, the Brewster Cup, the Associated Screen News Cup and the ladies' driving contest, a men's driving contest, and mixed foursome matches.

Donates Trophy for Largest Deer

Presented by the Sylvester U-Drive, Ltd., the trophy pictured above will go to the hunter who shoots the largest deer on Vancouver Island this year. The cup is held by the winner for twelve months, but a miniature of the main cup will be presented to become the permanent possession of the holder of the major prize.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

The championship of the Intermediate League will be fought out at the Royal Athletic Park this afternoon, when the Beacon Hill nine clash with the High School team. Both teams are at present in the series and today's match will be the deciding one. The game is called for 3:30 o'clock.

Corkie, Brown and Coleman will wear the colors of the Victoria West Athletic Association in the big meet at Nanaimo this afternoon. They will all go in the five mile and Coleman will also take a chance in the mile.

"We want a new club house, and we will have it," was the statement held at a meeting of the North Ward boys held at the Labor Hall. The North Ward boys have in the past years been without a club house, which is considered a great factor towards making an athlete. Now the North Wards are determined to have the club built before the New Year in order to take part in the Rugby, soccer and basketball leagues.

This season's boys flying the royal blue have had a very successful season in lacrosse, having played nine games and not yet suffered defeat. They have now entered the Provincial League, and are confident they will come out victorious.

The Victoria lacrosse players meet the Maple Leafs at Vancouver next Saturday. Practice will be held at the Royal Athletic Park tomorrow afternoon and a big turnout is looked for, as there is but a short time for the team to work into shape.

Art Burns, the Calgary runner, who is at present running under the colors of the Spokane Athletic Club, will be in the city for a few days and will then proceed back to Spokane. Burns is a crack long-distance runner, and was first trained in the Alberta town by W. G. Findlay, at present physical instructor of the local Y.M.C.A.

DEFENDING CHAMPION HEADS LARGE FIELD AT COLWOOD COURSE

Bellingham Veteran Cards Fine 77 to Capture Qualifying Round by Six Strokes—Goes Out in 37 and Back in 40—Four Tied for Second Position—Competition Keen

Blazing his way over the long difficult and well-bunkered Royal Colwood course in a brilliant 77, seven strokes over perfect figures, W. H. Abbott, defending titlist from Bellingham, served notice that he is out to retain the grand championship of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association, by capturing the qualifying round over the eighteen-hole distance, by six strokes, from a field of 156 competitors, yesterday. Abbott won the crown last year at Oak Bay by defeating W. F. Kettenbach, of Lewiston, Idaho, for the first time, and is a strong favorite to repeat his triumph of twelve months ago. He led the field by six strokes and was the only golfer to break eighty.

Ideal Summer weather welcomed the competitors and the course was in near-perfect condition. Some of the field found the greens lightning fast and the distances to others were deceiving. One more than last year faced Starters Bob Johnstone, Seattle, and Alex Marlin, who got the veterans away from the first tee in record time. Two former champions, J. E. Wilson, Victoria, twice a winner, and J. A. Byerly, Portland, are among the qualifiers in the grand championship, while Joshua Green, Seattle, runner-up two years ago to Col. Fell, is another in the select group.

NAMED CAPTAIN

It was announced yesterday that Col. J. P. Fell, Vancouver, will skipper the Canadian team in the big international match against the Americans. W. H. Abbott has already been named captain of the squad from across the border.

The seniors will be guests of Lieut. Governor J. W. Fordham Johnson to tea at 4:30 o'clock. Dress will be informal and a large turnout is expected. Match play will open this morning and many interesting results should be reported.

Marking time with Old Man Par for most of the out-going journey, Abbott reached the turn in 37, just two strokes over perfect figures. He came back over the incoming distance in 40 to compile his winning total. On the first nine, the champion was over par on the first three holes. He caged a birdie three at the sixth and parred the rest of the holes. Abbott's home trip was a little unsteady at times, but he never faltered badly and came in with a card well ahead of the rest of the field.

FOUR TIED

Tied for second place were four others, including R. W. Gibson, Victoria; G. A. Warren, Portland; Curtis H. Harold, Seattle; and G. H. Raleigh, Tacoma, all had cards of 83. T. B. McPherson, Victoria; J. A. Byerly, Portland, and Joshua Green, Seattle, were bracketed in third position with 85, while four others were in the next slot with 92.

The remainder of the veterans were well bunched. Dr. J. E. Weeks, Portland, the "daddy" of them all, who boasts of eighty-one years, traveled the eighteen holes in 117, comparatively good, considering his four-score years. T. H. Leeming, Victoria, won the opening day's putting contest with a nine-hole score of 34.

WINNING CARD

Abbott's winning card follows: Out 35, 33, 34—37. In 64, 46, 45—40—77.

FINANCE - COMMERCE - MARKETS

Stocks Advance And Bonds Drop At Wall Street

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP).—Stocks came back into the speculative limelight today with a brisk rally that stirred the market into lively activity for a time.

Trading quieted before the finish, but closing prices were around the best of the day. Gains of 1 to 3 points were numerous, and Union Pacific rebounded for a net gain of 5 points. Volume increased to 811,000 shares.

Reports that advancing food prices had led to stocking of canned goods, and further increases in rising prices focused attention on food and canning shares. Continental Can jumped more than 3 points and American Can 2 1/2. California Packing crossed 40, a new 1934 peak, closing 1 1/2 higher. McKesson-Triplett slipped 3 1/2 points. Armour of Illinois, preferred, advanced 3 1/4.

Gains of 1 to 3 points were recorded for American Telephone, Air Reduction, Bechtel Packing, Chrysler, General Mills, Johnson-Manville, U.S. Gypsum, U.S. Steel, Montgomery Ward and International Nickel.

Government plans to speed up the housing improvement programme brought buying into building shares. Steel shares rallied with the market. The government bond market recovered a substantial portion of its recent losses, but many prime investment loans closed fractionally lower.

Transfers approximated $17,186,000, par value. Standard average of sixty domestic corporate loans declined 1-10 of a point to 82 1/2.

The foreign section was featured by a 5 1/4-point break in Austrian 7 1/2, at 101-1/8.

Virginia Vane Says:

Dear Virginia Vane: For the past two months I have been working in a city some distance from my home. I left my fiancée in my home town, and came here to work with the idea of helping toward a bank account, when we married.

Now, in this new office there is a girl who has shown that she is interested in me. She began inviting me to her home, etc. I have tried not to be interested in her. She is not the type I admire at all. But I find that I am getting a crush on her—although I do not even think of her in the same class with my fiancée. I am ashamed of the attraction I feel toward the new charmer. Is it my duty to tell my fiancée the truth, and break off with her? Do I really love her, if I can let my mind be so obsessed with someone I do not even admire?—Worried.

Put up stakes and go home, my boy. Run away from temptation while the running's good. Your love for your fiancée hasn't really suffered yet. It's under a temporary cloud, because you're the victim of a physical attraction.

If you stay where danger is, you will spoil the relationship which means so much to you. You'll let yourself get emotionally involved with a girl who has only one appeal for you. If you're weak enough, you'll be overwhelmed by the tide of your own emotions—and after that of infatuation has run its course, you'll be left stranded, utterly out of love with the fair charmer and utterly incapable of taking up your engagement where you left off.

You see, your disloyalty to your fiancée will spoil your own happiness for you.

The greatest happiness in the world is to be exclusively in love with someone—and to believe that the beloved is the only happiness in the world. It's when we begin to allow ourselves little mental distractions—to look around for more amusing possibilities—to invite other attentions—that we destroy our own true happiness. We hurt those whom we deceive, and thus we hurt ourselves more than we hurt those whom we deceive.

If you went on with this little affair, worried, you might easily be able to keep your fiancée happily deceived. She might remain in blissful ignorance to the end of her days and you might go back to her confident that not a doubt of you existed in her mind.

But what about yourself? Do you honestly think you'd be happy? Don't you know that your little emotional spree would have taken away something from your relationship with the girl you really love?

I advise you to get away from the danger zone. If you're weak, you'll succumb to this attraction and begin to build illusions around you. You know definitely to be the wrong type for you. If you're cynical, you'll take the affair for what it is worth and commit a disloyalty to your fiancée which will spoil the sweetness of your relationship with her.

If you go away, the whole incident will fade from your mind with lightning rapidity. Loneliness and a little flattered vanity have made you susceptible to your fair pursuer. Her influence on you won't last a week, once you've removed yourself from the scene of the tragedy.

This is one of the times when running away from temptation is just about the smartest thing a young about-to-be-married man can do.

Mrs. W.I.W.: You apparently have done everything in your power to make some sort of success out of the mockery of your marriage. You and your husband are equally to blame for the failure, since your lack of love for him undoubtedly brought out the worst in his disposition.

But the damage is done now and there is no use in discussing the respective merits of the guilty parties. You two are mismatched, and you're both wrecking each other's chances for happiness.

It is unfair of your husband to refuse to consider divorce, but for the moment I should not worry about that. If I were you, you would be happier as an independent factor, earning your own living and making your own way in the world. Your husband's nerves and temper will undoubtedly improve in your absence. He will find that life is again bearable when he has at least the freedom which your departure brings. And the chances are that once he has experienced a new peace and release from attentions, he will welcome the chance to make the separation permanent.

Certainly both of you will be more useful and more healthy minded if you're not forced to live together.

Go your own way and give your husband a chance to find out how great a joy it is to be freed from a loveless marriage.

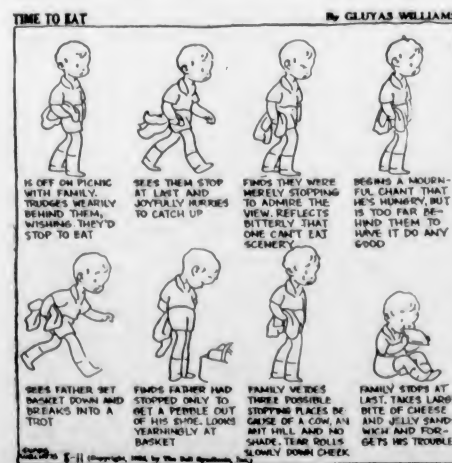

M.D.: So many years' acquaintance surely justifies a friendly invitation to call! You needn't be afraid of appearing too forward in this situation.

Ask one of the boys or girls who knows your hero to bring you two together, and when the meeting is arranged pop the invitation. I believe the boy is suffering from chronic bashfulness and needs only a friendly hint to embark on the friendship you desire so much.

Johnny, wanting to stay away, is too ill to come to school today. I thought it a good plan to telephone. "Who is that speaking?" came the headmaster's voice. In a deep voice he answered, "Johnny." "My father," answered Johnny.

STATES STRIKERS HAD GOOD CLAIM

Oswald Taylor, former Victorian, tells Gyro here of Longshoremen's Walk-Out

"The striking longshoremen had a legitimate claim," declared Oswald Taylor, former Victorian, and now resident in Oakland, in a short impromptu address before members of the Gyro Club yesterday in the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Taylor spoke in place of Thomas W. Hall, Prince Rupert District school inspector, who was scheduled to speak.

The speaker pointed out that many in California were of the opinion that the Communist element had influenced the strikers. Thousands of Communists in the San Francisco Bay region had been arrested and deported during the strike.

An Australian was the chief instigator of the strike, according to Mr. Taylor, and he confidently expects the man will be deported.

BOARD FORMED

"Young fellows, with plenty of strong back and weak brains were securing all the jobs, while the older men in the unions were not being engaged at all. This set up a bad feeling, resulting in the strike. An advisory board has been set up, but the outcome of its deliberations has not yet been made public," Mr. Taylor stated.

Gyro William C. Hudson led community singing, while Leonard Acres and Harry Hilder gave an impromptu musical programme for the clubmen's enjoyment.

It was decided that the annual business meeting will be held September 10, and the annual installation dinner dance will be conducted on September 19.

Galiano Exhibition Is Declared History's Best

Large Number of Exhibitors Attend Annual Show Opened by Alex McDonald, M.P.P.—Prize Awards Announced by Judges

GALIANO, Aug. 11.—The exhibition held at Galiano Hall on August 8, was opened by Alex McDonald, M.P.P. Before introducing Mr. McDonald, the chairman of the committee, A. Cayer, thanked the secretary, Capt. C. P. Norton, and the committee for their wholehearted co-operation.

Mr. McDonald, after welcoming the large gathering of visitors, mentioned that Galiano was leading the province by holding the first Fall Fair of the year.

Mr. McDonald complimented the secretary and the committee in general on the excellent display, and on the decorating which was done by G. Goodwin. The speaker remarked on the advance made by the association this year in spite of the depression and of receiving no Government grant, and stated that there were more than 700 entries and over 100 exhibitors. He praised the exhibitors on the quality of their exhibits which made the judging very difficult.

EXPECT GOOD CROPS

Mr. McDonald touched on the subject of marketing, stating that throughout the province excellent crops were anticipated and that the present Legislature is trying hard to solve the problem of finding a ready market.

He then declared the exhibition officially opened and one and all joined in singing the National Anthem, which was played by the orchestra.

The dance in the evening was beyond all expectations of the committee in regard to attendance. During the evening Capt. Norton, secretary and treasurer of the show, who acted as master of ceremonies, thanked everyone for their support and distributed the special prizes to the winners, who were loudly applauded. A prize was given to Mrs. Hume and Mr. Cayer for the statue walls. Mrs. Lord and Mrs. Norton were hostesses for supper.

Data and Dates Of Victoria and Vancouver Island

ESQUIMALT Harbor received its name from the Indians here in the very early days, and means "place gradually shoaling." The wonderful natural harbor was discovered by Sub-Lieutenant Quimper, of the Spanish Navy, in 1790, when, in a confiscated British sloop, the Princess Royal, he dropped anchor near the shore. Early in the history of our country, the advantages of Esquimalt Harbor as a naval depot were seen, and accordingly, in 1857, it was taken over by the Admiralty. Buildings for naval hospital purposes, the outcome of the Russian War, were erected there in 1885. During the close of the nineteenth century, this port harbored, from time to time, many of the greatest dreadnoughts of the British Navy of the time. On its bank today, are situated the Esquimalt Naval Barracks.
